Physics 151
Syllabus Quiz

1. List what is expected of you before coming to each class.

2. List what is expected of you during each class.

3. How often will there be homework assignments?

4. When is the homework due to be turned in for grading (including time of day)?

5. What happens if you can't seem to get your homework in by the time they are due?

6. How much is each homework problem worth?

7. How much of your total course grade is your homework grade worth?

8. List the elements of a correctly worked homework problem.

9. What is the penalty for working with other students on your homework?

10. What is the penalty for copying a homework solution from someone or somewhere else?

11. What will be on the quizzes?

12. How much of your total course grade is your quiz grade worth?

13. What will be on the examinations?

14. How will the examinations be organized?

15. What materials can be used during the examinations?
16. What materials can not be used during the examinations?

17. How much of your total course grade are each of the exams worth?

18. What is the penalty for cheating on an examination?

19. List when (date, day of week, time, and location) each of the examinations are?

20. Is there any penalty for coming to class late?

21. How many classes are you allowed to miss during the semester?

22. Again, list the policy for work turned in late.

23. Again, list the policy for working with others on your assignments.

24. Again, list the policy for copying or modifying other people's work on assignments, cheating, or any other type of academic dishonesty.

25. Carefully study the pages on the Homework web page titled Behavioral Dimensions of Grades.

26. Carefully study the pages on the Homework web page titled Time Commitment.

27. How much time is usually spent in lecture, in laboratories, and working out-of-class?

28. How can you keep your amount of work from piling up?

29. Do physics courses take more of your time and effort than other courses at Westminster? If so, why?

30. Do physics courses at Westminster take more of your time and effort than physics courses at other colleges and universities? If so, why?